MANUFACTURES.

It is often said that the citizens of Bangor are willing to while away some of the evenings of our long winters to the discussion of projects of local development, but that all the good resolutions on this subject go out with the ice in the spring, to be recalled only when the closing of the river brings us again to face a season of comparative idleness. We admit that there has been much reason for such complaint, but feel unwilling to concede that it is impossible to keep alive the public spirit of our people during the season when our business is most active. It is true that individual interests and occupations are more exacting during the summer season than in the winter, but every enterprising man must feel that in our busiest time we are doing nothing like the amount which we should with our facilities, while the prospect of an annual season of comparative stagnation should act as a spur to the zeal of those who appreciate the future needs of the community.

We believe that it is the duty of all who earnestly desire that our city shall grow and prosper to do all that may be in their power to keep alive and stimulate the spirit of enterprise. Every one may not have a definite project for development, but every individual may exert an influence in keeping the importance of doing something uppermost in the public mind, and those who have the means of giving direction to the general impulse should not neglect any opportunity, which, if timely carried in the summer or winter [illegible] of manufactures has been extensively discussed in our community, and it is our belief that we not only have abundant facilities for the establishment of such industries on an extensive scale, but that it holds out to us the future promise [illegible] What has been thought to be, in the past, the reason why the interests and desires of [illegible] should not crystallize into [illegible] We have superior natural facilities, [illegible] lack of capital to invest, [illegible] minds, and our citizens have energy enough to accomplish whatever they set [illegible] we venture.

[illegible] conflicting influences operating [illegible] has been the fact that many of our [illegible] have capital to invest are unacquainted with the business of manufacturing [illegible] extremely cautious about embarking in [illegible] projects. This feeling has existed in [illegible] communities which have within a few years grown to be manufacturing centres, and this difficulty can also be overcome here, if those who have the disposition will study the rise and progress of manufactures in various localities in New England. That a movement in this direction is demanded no one will dispute, and when it is made it must be by the strong men of Bangor putting their shoulders to the wheel and pushing together. We are satisfied in pressing this matter upon the attention of our citizens, and do so with the hope that every agitation of the subject may add in some degree in hastening the time when Bangor will be as celebrated for its manufactures as it has been for the extent of its lumbering operations.

THE TRIBE OF THE ARKANSAS DEGISION

Our views have been without reference to political bias, are practically unanimous in sustaining the action of the President in the Arkansas case. A few of those which were at first over-fearful of too ready an interference by Federal authority, now improve the occasion by complaining of unnecessary delay. But the soundness of the position assumed is conceded and the proclamation finds a general indorsement. An article printed on our first page to-day presents a very plain statement of the circumstances leading to the present imbroglio between Baxter and Brooks, and a perusal thereof will prepare the reader to approve the proclamation sent to Little Rock which we publish in another column. The decision has been received with satisfaction by the people of the State now [illegible] threatened with civil war, and throughout the North there is a feeling of relief over a practical solution of the dangerous controversy. A few of the hot headed supporters of Brooks, may feel savage over their defeat but the great majority of citizens care more for the preservation of peace than for the fortunes of either claimant of the Governorship. From the editorial comments of various leading papers we clip a few extracts, and give them the following from the N. Y. Herald:

Attorney General Williams has advised the President, in an elaborate and sound opinion, that the views presented in regard to the appeals from Arkansas establishes that Mr Baxter is rightfully the Governor of that State, and the President has consequently issued his proclamation, recognizing Baxter as legal, and calling upon all persons who oppose his authority to disperse within ten days. This settles the case and will, we believe, give peace to the State.

The Tribune briefly refers to the matter thus:

The President having at length taken a very decided course in reference to the two Governors of Arkansas, the "little war" seems not unlikely to collapse. Yesterday the President issued a proclamation, recognizing Baxter, was telegraphed to Little Rock, and forthwith the people fell to singing and rejoicing. The stores were reopened and women and children were once more seen in the streets. Nothing has been heard from Brooks thus far—but he may show his teeth yet, and in that case he and his followers will receive a lesson which may incidentally make an impression on the minds of the carpet baggers throughout the South.

The Tribune treats the subject in an elaborate editorial commencing as follows:

The decision of the President in the Arkansas case is what must have been anticipated by every one who has given any attention to the legal question involved in it. Gen Grant has not, though it his duty to examine the alleged frauds in counting the returns of the election. The State Constitution has established a tribunal for the settlement of issues of that kind, and this tribunal has pronounced in favor of Mr Baxter. When the President had ascertained that Baxter was regularly declared elected by the final authority competent to decide whether he was elected or not, he had no business to inquire any further. Recognition followed as a matter of course. The opinion of the Attorney General sweeps away with a bold hand a great many sophistries and misstatements with which the adherents of Mr. Brooks have befogged the issue, and puts the case in a very clear and satisfactory light.

The Evening Post says:

The President could not in decency hesitate longer to act in the settlement of the Arkansas dispute, nay that the Legislature have met and recognized Baxter as Governor and that both Baxter and the Legislature have appealed for aid to suppress "domestic violence," as provided in the Constitution.

The Boston Advertiser holds Senator Clayton largely responsible for the trouble and says:

The disgraceful but tiresome Arkansas case seems to be at an end. The President has recognized Baxter as Governor, and unless Brooks vacates the State House at once, the military force of the United States will be used to eject him. The duty of the President to adopt the course he has pursued had become very clear, notwithstanding the grave doubts with which the case has been befogged.

The Journal treats we have "now seen the beginning of the end of the Arkansas trouble," and remarks:

The Attorney General's review of the case, so far as it demands the attention of the United States Government, is an elaborate document, but is lucidity, wisdom, and acuteness at the only occasion possible. It demonstrates that the Legislature of Arkansas had exclusive jurisdiction of the question of the Governorship, and that the President cannot go behind its decision to look into the votes given respectively to Baxter and Brooks. Baxter, therefore, must be recognized as Governor, and the call issued by the Legislature to protect the State against domestic violence must be heeded by the President.

And the Globe indorses the proclamation as follows:

The law and the facts in the Arkansas case are very clearly set forth in the opinion of Attorney General Williams, and there seems to have been no course left for the President but to recognize Baxter as the Governor of that perturbed Commonwealth, and to protect him against domestic violence.

INEBRIATE ASYLUMS.

The Connecticut Legislature appointed last year a Commission, which has just made a report upon the subject of establishing an inebriate asylum. The Commission consisted of three physicians and two judges. The report is voluminous and exhaustive. The Commission have made extensive examinations of the operations of asylums for the inebriate in this country, have gone through all the reports published upon the subject, including that of the select committee of the English House of Commons on habitual drunkards, and have arrived at certain definite conclusions, as follows. 1. Drunkenness is a disease, subject to treatment as other diseases. 2. That the disease can be successfully treated when its treatment is made a specialty. 3 That inebriates should not be treated as ordinary criminals. 4. The objects to be sought are the protection of society and the reformation of inebriates. 5. The present penal system is a failure in each of these particulars. A reformatory home is recommended, the particular essentials of which have not yet been presented in form to the Legislature. But the Commission say that a work-house system, well organized and under thorough discipline, with commitments long enough to make the labor remunerative and the discipline reformatory, is by most hopeful remedy for these great and growing evils. The report itself must be a very valuable document and well worth the attention of legislators.

THE ARKANSAS PROCLAMATION.

The following is the President's Proclamation relative to the Arkansas question, which was telegraphed to Little Rock, for the information of all concerned:

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas certain turbulent disorderly persons, pretending that Elisha Baxter is not the present executive of Arkansas, have combined together, with force and arms, to resist his authority as such executive and the other authorities of said State, and

Whereas said Elisha Baxter, under section 4, article 6, of the Constitution of the United States, and the laws passed in pursuance thereof, has heretofore made application to me to protect said State and the citizens thereof against domestic violence, and

Whereas the General Assembly of said State convened, in extra session, at the capital thereof, on the 11th inst., pursuant to a call made by said Elisha Baxter, and both houses thereof have passed a joint application applying to me to protect the State against domestic violence, and

Whereas it is provided in the laws of the United States, that in all cases of insurrection to the laws thereof, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, on application of the Legislature of such States, or the executive, when the Legislature cannot be convened, to call up such part of the land and naval forces as shall be judged necessary for the purpose of suppressing such insurrection or causing the laws to be duly executed, and

Whereas it is required that whenever it may be necessary in the judgment of the President to use such force for the purpose aforesaid he shall forthwith by proclamation command such insurgents to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective houses within a limited time, now, therefore,

I, Ulysses S Grant President of the United States, do hereby make a proclamation and command all turbulent and disorderly persons to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within ten days from this date and hereafter submit themselves to the lawful authority of said executive and the other constituted authorities of said State, and I invoke the aid and co-operation of all good citizens to uphold the law and preserve the public peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed at the city of Washington, the 15th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1874, the independence of the United States the 98th.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT

By the President,
HAMILTON FISH, Sec'y of State.

The Boston Traveller states that Mr. Jeremiah Prescott, for more than twenty years associated with the Eastern Railroad Co., for the latter portion of the time as Superintendent, is understood to have resigned his position. The duties of the office will now devolve upon the General Manager, Mr Charles F Hatch.

THE GENEVA AWARD. The House Committee on the Judiciary Friday decided to report their bill relative to the Geneva Award as a substitute for the Senate bill. Should the House pass this bill, a summer deadlock to that of last year will be the result, and a committee of conference will of necessity be appointed. The points at issue between the two houses, to be adjusted, will be whether settlements shall be made through the courts or through a commission, and whether the claims of insurance companies shall be recognized.

The Springfield Republican says. "Gen. Butler's next friends are quoted as declaring that he will not be a candidate for reelection to Congress, this Fall, preferring to contenance himself on the Governorship. These out-givings are said to be 'authoritative.' Perhaps, but no man has clearer notions than the General on the relative value of the bird in the hand and the uncaged warblers in the bush."

The N. Y. Tribune says of the case of Gen Howard that "the court, composed of able members, with Gens. Sherman and McDowell at their head, was unanimous in its acquittal, and the result must be highly gratifying to all who hold that the well-earned fame of the eminent General of the country is a valuable national possession."

THE PRESIDENT AND THE NEW BILL. Washington despatches to the Boston Journal state that although President Grant does not say that he will veto the currency bill passed by the Senate on Thursday if it should come up before him, he does not give the impression that such will be the quietus of the matter. The Journal says: "The new bill, in spite of some nominal sops thrown to the hard money sentiment of the country, is quite as objectionable, and in some respects more so, than the vetoed bill. It is thoroughly inflationist and degradatory in its intended effect upon the currency, and is in defiance of the President's position as declared in his veto message. Surely, its authors ought to know the President well enough to admit that he is in the habit of holding any ground he has once taken. And in this case he has the nation to back him up.

Sunday T. Fallon, esq., the able editor of the Portland Press, will act as chairman of the Maine State Republican Committee during the absence of Governor Dingley.

FROM ROCKLAND.

ROCKLAND, May 17

[illegible] minutes past [illegible] Myrtle, near [illegible] small value, used [illegible] which was destroyed [illegible] The fire commun[illegible] building on Main [illegible] Wight & Case [illegible] which was almost [illegible] Mr. Ward's Case's [illegible] Limited in addition also [illegible] furniture from the dwellings [illegible] small stock of [illegible] was damaged. The [illegible]

The Latest Particulars!

THE BURSTING OF THE RESERVOIR—THE DESTROYING FLOOD.

HAVERHILL, Mass., May 16 A large section about four miles north of this place, constructed to supply the manufactories of Williamsburg, Leeds and Haydenville, gave way about 9 o'clock this morning, and the vast volume rushing down the hills carrying everything before it. It struck the southern portion of Williamsburg village, about two miles north of this place, carrying away a large number of dwellings, thence to Skinners mills, where it swept away Skinner's large gristmills and a boarding and sheltering house, continuing on it struck the large brass manufactory of Hayden, Gere & Co., sweeping it away in an instant. Large stones and rubbish were swept through the main streets at a fearful rate, and well built houses were literally crushed, not giving the inmates a moment's warning. The flood then struck the village of Leeds where a large number of [illegible] were swept away

TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE.

The loss of life was very heavy, whole families in some instances having been carried away over farms and were either killed or [illegible] It is impossible at this time to [illegible] number of lives lost. Twenty-three bodies so far have been taken out of the ruins and shore.

Whole blocks of tenement houses filled with women and children were swept down stream, and all in the water were of course [illegible] this hour [illegible] bodies and corpses being brought in and laid in the [illegible] Most of them can be recognized.

THEIR REPORTS OF DAMAGE AND FATALITIES

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 17. The reports of the disaster in consequence of the breaking away of the reservoir at Leeds, Hampshire county, this morning come in thick and fast. The damage to property must be hundreds of thousands of dollars, while it is impossible to estimate correctly the loss of life. Among those drowned at Williamsburg was the wife [illegible] Frost. At Leeds, Captain Vaughn and Mrs. H. L. Quimby and daughter were swept away. At Leeds, Mr. Warner's button factory was swept entirely away leaving the foundations only to mark the spot.

BRIDGES DESTROYED.

At Northampton the iron bridge on the Boston & Albany road was swept away, taking the canal railroad bridge in its course. It stopped at the south street bridge. The morning train from New Haven is stopped at East Hampton. The flood is now subsiding.

THE RESERVOIR.

A dam to retain covered [illegible] acres of ground at an average depth of 30 feet. It was drawn upon in dry times for the supply of the mills at Williamsburg, Haydenville and Leeds.

FATALITY—SIX LIVES LOST.

A telegram received from Northampton at [illegible] makes the loss of life by the great flood at sixty.

A. F. Lyon, an old miner was drowned with several others in the Warner button factory. Lyon left a family of six children, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald and children, Edward Harris, wife and children, Gabriel Davis, Patrick O'Neil, Mrs. Hickey, whose daughter Julia was swept away, but was recovered. Mrs. Sherwood (body found), Mrs. Dorsey and her sister, John Ryan and six children. Twelve houses at Leeds were swept away and part of the silk mill is gone.

The following is a list of the drowned at Haydenville:—Mr. Alpheus Shumway, Mr. Jacob Bird, Mrs. Jennie Hulman, three children of Samuel Miller, two children of E. H. Thayer, a boy named Brodeen, Mr. Hitchcock, Captain Joseph Hayden's son.

At Haydenville and Leeds the dwellings not destroyed are filled into charnal houses and [illegible]

ADDITIONAL TRAIN—THAT'S AT WORK.

A train on the Canal road has gone out to Leeds with provisions. At Haydenville the stores of Kevin Gerahes, Mr. Eames, and Cutler were swept away. At Williamsburg Superintendent Bermingham, Dr. Johnson, undertaker Chilton also Constables Bushard, [illegible] Lewis were drowned. Twenty-seven bodies were at two o'clock, three of which are at Northampton Town Hall and fourteen at Florence. Sub-master Starkweather and Burr have organized a force of twenty men at Leeds and county at Northampton, to search the route of the flood for bodies. Florence is covering the bodies of factory girls at Leeds.

ANOTHER DAM GIVES WAY—LOSS OF LIFE.

SPRINGFIELD, May 17. The latest figures of the loss of life make the total number 144, divided between the three places as follows: Williamsburg, 60; Leeds, 40; Haydenville, [illegible] These figures only represent the persons who lives is positively known. Though the bodies of all are not yet recovered, they are being found, and in some cases those of persons not supposed to be lost, so that it seems perfectly safe to say that the total loss of life will exceed 150, if indeed it does not more nearly approach 200

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED.

The following is a general estimate of losses by places:—

Williamsburg—W. H. Avonhist's housing and dye works, $10,000. H. L. Dikes' mill damaged and lost without water power, $30,000, houses, barns, etc., gone, $40,000

Skinnerville—Wm. Skinner's silk factory and two tenement houses destroyed, $4,20; [illegible] houses and barns, $12,000.

Haydenville, Gere & Co.'s brass works, saw rigs and building and tenements swept away, $250,000; Hayden, tobacco works carried off, $7,000, Hayden foundry and machine works damaged $5,000, other houses and stores $5,000, gas works, $8,000.

Leeds—Hemlock Silk Co's dam broken and several buildings and houses carried away, $25,000, George F. Warner's button factory destroyed and three tenements carried away, $100,000, other houses and barns, $20,000, Northampton Emery Wheel Co's damage, $20,000

Florence—Florence Manufacturing Co's brush factory, damage to stock, $8,000; Montcalm Silk Co's mill pa tially torn away and stock damaged $8,000

THE BRIDGES DESTROYED.

The damage to the town of Williamsburg by loss of bridges, destruction of roads and complete ruin of the best meadow lands is at present incalculable, but it is such as to seriously cripple the town. Those bridges were carried away in the village of Williamsburg, one wooden and the other two iron. In the village of Leeds one bridge was taken off, and in the village of Florence one iron and two wooden bridges were swept away.

A FLUCKY FIRM.

Hayden, Gere & Co., of Haydenville, one of the most important firms which met their establishment, will have a card in the Springfield Republican of to-morrow morning, saying that they intend to build their factory at once, and advertise for workmen for that purpose. Their employes will be paid as the accounts can be made up, and the firm generously offer aid to those of their workmen in need of it.

SERIOUS DOUBTS AS TO THE SAFETY OF THE RESERVOIR LONG HELD.

It appears that serious doubts as to the safety of the reservoir have been felt since it was built nine years ago, though less the last year or two than in its entire history. The same tongue has several times expressed fears to his employers, calling special attention once to the point where the break occurred, but the examiners always reported everything safe. Vastly more than this of the keeper's however, is the [illegible] furnished by Mr. Lewis Boardman, a life-long and well-known resident of Williamsburg and for many years connected with its manufacturing interests. Mr. Boardman is thoroughly familiar with the reservoir which he helped pay for, being at that time owner of the James mill, which he sold six years ago. He accompanied the late Lt. Governor Bullock when the reservoir was first filled, which was not till the spring of 1866, and says that they both expected to see it go off at that first trial. It manifested no special weakness, however, and at different times subsequently it was strengthened.

BOARDMAN CONFESSES A LONG FELT DISTRUST OF THE RESERVOIR.

Mr. Boardman, however, confesses he never felt quite satisfied with the reservoir during the three years of its history when he was mill proprietor and so part owner of it. Since then he has maintained his interest in manufacturing enterprises so fully as to keep himself well informed of the reservoir's condition, and he says he has become constantly better satisfied, until had he been asked the day before the disaster whether he considered it safe, he would have unhesitatingly replied in the affirmative.

A CONTRACT JOB—THE WORK SLIGHTED.

The work as a whole was not satisfactory, the upper third of the wall especially being slowly built. Boardman says that when the contractors had reached this stage it was getting late in the fall and cold weather was coming on, the engineer was sick some of the time and did not exercise so constant and close a supervision as his position demanded, and the contractors hurried up their work as rapidly as possible with too little regard. Mr. Boardman thinks, to the quality of the work

CAUSE OF THE DISASTER—A THEORY.

The direct cause of the disaster, aside from the general weakness of the dam, must remain a subject of speculation. The gate keeper detected no sign of danger when he examined the situation at early dawn, and what the last straw was that broke the back of the reservoir can never be definitely known. Perhaps as satisfactory a theory as any is one advanced by a man familiar with the case, that the frosts had started the earth so that the water had found numerous little courses through it which finally carried off the first mass of earth Saturday morning, and [illegible] precipitated the catastrophe

MASSACHUSETTS

THE ESTATE OF OAKES AMES DECLARED INSOLVENT.

EASTON, May 16. Owing to extraordinary depreciation of the assets of the estate of Oakes Ames of North Easton, the executors conclude to represent the estate insolvent, and to the Probate Court yesterday, Judge Bennet appointed Hon. Charles Allen and Peter Thatcher of Boston, and Aaron Hobart, jr., of Bridgewater, Commissioners. It is believed, however, that the estate will be able to pay nearly or quite in full, with sufficient time in which to realize on the investments, many of which are in Western and Southern bonds and stocks.

DARING ROBBER ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, May 16. On the 17th of November last Mathew Gray and two others managed an entrance into the dwelling of Geo. Ford in Lee, Berkshire Co., Mass., while a majority of the family were absent and robbed, of $1,500 worth of property. One of them [illegible] Mrs. Ford's mother, and after gagging and binding her, placed a revolver to her head and threatened to shoot her if she made any alarm. Mrs. Ford was able to give a description and word was telegraphed to this city. Detectives last night arrested Gray. A Deputy Sheriff and a Constable came to this city this afternoon and handed their prisoner. He agreed to go without a requisition and will be taken to Lee to-day.

SCHOONER ASHORE.

BOSTON, May 16. Schooner Matthew Kinney, from Hallowell for Philadelphia with a cargo of ice, went ashore at 12 o'clock to-day at South Wellfleet, Cape Cod. The crew are all safe. At last accounts the vessel was in good condition. The wind was southeast and blowing heavily. There is a slight insurance on the vessel.

THE ARKANSAS IMBROGLIO

THE FRIENDS OF BROOKS ENRAGED.

NEW YORK, May 16. Washington despatches state that Brooks' friends there are loudly clamoring against the President for not organizing Baxter as Governor of Arkansas, and it is now denied to bring the matter before Congress in order that a Congressional Committee may be sent to Arkansas to investigate the matter. Brooks' friends say that he will organize the State House, and enthrone himself as Governor in an other part of Little Rock. He will keep the State Treasurer with him, and if possible prevent Baxter from getting at the funds of the State.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

If the Legislature calls a Constitutional Convention, such convention will or say a new election, and will declare all State officers extant except that of Governor Baxter, holding over

AT LEGRO CORRUPTION.

It is stated that John M. Bradley, who was the Republican candidate for Congressman at large from Arkansas, and who was believed to have been counted out by the friends of Brooks who counted Will. no J. Hynes, now comes forward with affidavits that Hynes bought him off by paying down $500 in cash, and promising to pay $1000 more. The last thousand remains unpaid. The bargain was to prevent Bradley contesting the seat of Hynes. A Congressional investigation will be made.

MORE SLAUGHTERING.

Little Rock specials state that Baxter's Federal guns garrisoned [illegible] on the afternoon. There was some skirmishing, and at this time there were appearances of serious trouble, but like many [illegible] regular daily skirmishes nothing very sanguinary result ed. Col. Rotzaker, of Baxter's forces, and Dr. Bond, Sergeant-at-Arms of the House, went to Pegue's Rescues very late evening, after the reception of the President's proclamation, probably to demand possession of the legislative halls.

FEELING IN THE SOUTH.

A Memphis despatch says that all through the South west the Arkansas contest creates a lively interest, and everywhere it seems to be the desire that a peaceful solution will be had. It makes very little difference whether Brooks or Baxter succeeds as long as the law is the settled and business resumed.

A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION CALLED

LITTLE ROCK, May 16 Both Houses today passed a bill providing for the assembling of a Constitutional Convention on the 4th of July. The House declared all the offices vacant where the officials have not come forward and taken their places.

BROOKS' FORCES SURRENDER

to-day. All Brooks' men will be sent home without molestation. Baxter's forces will be disbanded as rapidly as the public peace will justify.

VIGILANCE UNABATED.

The barricade erected by the regulars is still in position and their vigilance is still unabated. Senator John M Clayton and Senat ress A. Dawson (colored), Rep. Brown (colored) and Rep. Lee Thompson tried to get to their seats in the Legislature to-day, but were not allowed to pass Baxter's lines. The Constitutional Convention bill was passed unanimously in the House, three Senators—Messrs. Banks, McChesney and Duke—dissenting.

PROVISIONS OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL BILL.

The bill provides for an election on the 13th inst. to submit to the people the question whether or not they desire a convention, and for the election of delegates if they declare in favor of it, in which case the convention will assemble July 4th.

THE DISBANDMENT OF FORCES.

Under a cartel signed to-day for the exchange of prisoners and the disbandment of the respective forces, each side is to disband in proportion as the other does, each taking the arms they have now.

MARTIAL LAW TO BE MAINTAINED.

It is rumored that Baxter will not revoke the proclamation of martial law made in this county, and will keep forces enough to carry it into effect.

MISSOURI.

THE PRISON REFORM CONGRESS.

ST. LOUIS, May 16. At the Prison Reform Congress last evening, the report of Mr. Bruce showed that since the incorporation of Industrial schools and reformatories five children in New York city, were among the young thieves his agents had apprehended. Associates of the children in these institutions have become patients and after the care of one thousand of the children [illegible]

THE CZAR FOR PEACE.

LONDON, May 16. The Times says that the Czar, at the reception yesterday to the diplomatic corps, declared that the policy of the Russians was to preserve peace on the continent, and hoped the principal governments of Europe would be animated by the same sentiments.

The Czar went to Chiselhurst this morning to see the Empress Eugenie. Upon his return this afternoon he will visit the House of Commons, and this evening he will be present at the Crystal Palace.

FRANCE.

THE ELECTORAL BILL DISCUSSION — THE GOVERNMENT DEFEATED — THE MINISTERS RESIGN.

PARIS, May 16 The vote on the question of the priority of discussion of the electoral bill took place in the National Assembly this afternoon resulted in the defeat of the Government by a majority of 14. The Ministers thereupon tendered their resignations to President MacMahon.

EXCITEMENT OVER THE DEFEAT

The defeat of the Government and the resignation of the Ministers causes excitement, and the Boulevards are crowded this evening. It is the opinion of the public that a compromise will be effected. Ex-President Thiers is said with the opposition. M Raoul Duval proposes a Cabinet to consist of four Republicans, two Legitimists and two Bonapartists in order to effect a dissolution of the Assembly. Others suggest a Cabinet of which Duffet, M. De Fourtou, Duke de Cazes and Goulard shall be members.

CONFERENCE WITH MACMAHON.

MIDNIGHT—Goulard had a conference with MacMahon this evening. The Minister will remain until the crisis is settled. Negotiations for a new Cabinet will continue on Sunday.

WEST BANGOR CHAPEL. A musical and reading entertainment will be given in City Hall on Monday evening of next week in aid of the West Bangor Chapel. The choirs and quartette clubs of the city and other musical friends have generously offered their services for that evening and an attract ve programme and entertainment may be expected. The people of West Bangor have done and are doing all in their power to meet the expense of the building, but they need help in cancelling the remaining indebtedness

MEXICAN WAR VETERANS. A meeting of Mexican war veterans was held at the Soldiers' Home near Augusta last week, and an association formed called the "Association of Mexican War Veterans of the State of Maine." Fifteen responded and signed their names. The object of this organization is to unite all of those who served in Mexico, and they invite all to communicate personally, or by letter to address Wm. R. Hawkins, National Soldiers' Home, Togus, Me., in order that they may forward their names to the Secretary of "The National Association of Mexican War Veterans," at Washington, D. C., to be forwarded as members of that Association.

THE WABSAUMSEAG HOTEL at Fort Point will be opened for the season on the first of June next, under the charge of Mr. D. W. Hamlett, whose long experience in the business in New York and the West, and the past five years at the White Mountains, is a sufficient guarantee of his ability to properly care for the comfort and amusement of his guests. The advantages of this favorite Summer resort are too well known to our citizens to need enumeration here, and the hotel will undoubtedly be more popular than ever the coming season. The Sanford steamers will touch at Fort Point each trip to land passengers, and Rose & Hewett's boats will as heretofore ply daily from this city.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETING in City Hall, Saturday evening, was not as well attended as usual, owing to the unpropitious weather, but the occasion was an interesting one to those present, and as a whole lacked none of the enthusiasm of those more largely attended. Remarks were made by Mr. and Mrs. Dyer, of Portland, concerning the women's crusade in that city and the very encouraging prospect for finally stopping the sale of liquor; by Ira Dunbar, Esq., and others. Mrs. O. B. Plummer addressed particularly the young men, as she had promised to do some time before, picturing for them the gradual steps downward, of a young man who begins by taking a glass of ale in one of the quiet, aristocratic places in town and ends by becoming an imbiber of the fiery liquids dealt out in the lowest dens which are to be found.

Sunday afternoon the Hall was filled to overflowing and very interesting addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr Butler and Mr Dyer of Portland. Meetings will be held this week as usual.

FIRE IN MERCANTILE SQUARE.

Yesterday morning at a quarter to four o'clock, Mr. David Ames, who has charge of the street lamps, was going his rounds to extinguish them, when he discovered smoke issuing from the roof of a building on the West side of Mercantile square. He immediately gave an alarm and in a few minutes the bells were summoning the firemen to duty. It was some time before the fire could be exactly located, as no flame was at first visible, but the volume of smoke increased and just before the arrival of the engines the back side of the roof of store No 34 was all ablaze in a flash The locality is a very bad one for a fire—or, more properly, it is good such a fire, and bad for the fire department—as there is a narrow space between the rear of the stores fronting on Main st and those facing Mercantile square, and the circular shape of the latter made it appear that the fear of buildings places was on fire. In a short time, however, the three steamers, the hand engine and the chemical engine were all at work trying to check the flames, which by this time had worked through into the upper story of store No 33! These stores were divided from those adjoining by substantial brick walls running to the roof, and the fire was not allowed to go outside these limits. The firemen worked like heroes, tearing falling gutters, slates and timbers, and the immense body of water thrown upon the burning buildings soon extinguished the last ember. The front and rear walls are still standing and in good condition, and the work of repairs will be much facilitated thereby.

The store No 34, in the upper part of which the fire originated, was owned by Hon. S. H. Blake, and was completely gutted down to the first floor; it was insured for $3 000 in the Shoe & Leather of Boston It was occupied as an oyster saloon and eating house by Mr. M Blackwell, whose furniture, fixtures, stock and wardrobe are a total loss. He has an insurance of $1,400 in the Citizens of Philadelphia and $1,000 in the Bangor Mutual. It was occupied by Messrs. D E Fifield & Co., grocers and produce dealers, whose stock was much damaged by fire, smoke, water and removal. They had an insurance of $1,200 in the Bangor Mutual.

The store next south, owned by Mr. James Greenacre, was slightly damaged, by water. It was insured for $3,000 on the North British and Mercantile The clothing store of Mr. Amos F Chase, next north of Blackwell's, was considerd endangered, but was very little damaged. Mr. Chase packed many of his goods for removal, but lost no time.

The doors of the grocery store of Messrs. Snow & Neadley were smashed open soon after the alarm was given, and a crowd began to rush through, but this was soon stopped The store was in charge only from plunderers, and there was no need at that time of thus effecting an entrance.

One line of hose was taken up Main street and through the Boston Butter store in order to play on the rear of the burning building, and in consequence Mr. Tucker's goods were considerably damaged by water

Other minor losses occu red from broken glass, etc., but nothing serious. The Fire Department deserve much credit for the success of their exertions in stopping the fire where they did.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

Gabriel Cote ex Gleyne, the French painter, is dead.

The Democrats of New Jersey propose to nominate General McClellan for the Governorship.

John H Hyman, a negro, has been nominated for Congress in the 2d North Carolina District, how re presented by C R Thomas.

Baron Offenberg, Russian Minister, on Friday took leave of the President previous to his departure for St. Petersburg for six months' absence.

A letter from London says that General Sickles will not return to the United States, he having taken a residence, opera box, etc., in London.

The Hartford Courant thinks "now is the exact time for Dr Bacon and Mr Sperry to issue at other New Haven protest against the party process."

The Joint Special Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature on the House Tunnel have agreed upon a report which substantially recommends the appropriation of three millions of dollars to be expended upon the Troy and Greenfield Railroad and the tunnel approaches.

Senator Carpenter of Wisconsin has written a letter defending the constitutionality of recent legislation in that State regulating railroads, and argues that the question has been virtually decided in favor of the validity of the law by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says it is expected that the Committee of Elections, under an order made by the House, to consider the case of Cannon, Delegate from Utah, will report that a person living in open violation of the laws of the United States cannot retain a seat on the floor of the House.

Thirty-five Republican candidates for Congress of South Carolina are "prominently mentioned," but the list is increasing daily.—Gen. M. Ross heads the list, and after him come U. S. Senator Thomas S. Robertson and Congressman R B Elliott.

Congressman James B Beck of Kentucky announces his determination not to accept re-nomination, and expresses a hope that his district will select his successor harmoniously. This will probably but an end to the efforts of his friends to re-elect him in spite of himself.

The Boston Advertiser advises the Missourians to re-elect Carl Schurz to the U. S. Senate at the expiration of his present term of service.

The Boston Journal reviews the whole field of Massachusetts politics and declares that should General Butler conclude that he must run for Congress and for Governor, the same factors that defeated him when he first led his forces at Worcester will be sufficient—and enough in a total rout.

Mr. Bourke Upder Secretary for the Foreign Department, stated in the British House of Commons Friday that the Government of Guatemala had offered full indemnity and reparation for the outrage on Vice Consul Mayo.

The annual meeting of the Freeport Savings Bank was held at their office Saturday, and the following officers were elected — President, E. K. McLaren, Vice Presidents, Nelson Hammond Henry Wheeler, Treasurer, N. B. Nute, Jr.; Directors, Simon Stevens, J. V. McMahon, J. H. McLaren, R. B. Cash, Alden Bradford, J. W. Hinckley, G. F. Wadsworth, John Doane and E. W. French. The bank has been very successful since its organization.

The Chicago Times is not so enthusiastic over the late Manhattan Club gathering as some other Democratic newspapers. It speaks of it disrespectfully; calls it "a gathering of the dead," "a kind of love feast a mong some ancient skeletons from the graveyard of the ancient Bourbon party," and says, "the unseen dead skeletons shook one another's bony hands, smiled as skeletons are wont to do, and rattled their old bones in forced glee at jokes over the drawn battles in New Hampshire and Connecticut, which happened of them to call 'Democratic victories?'"

The Chicago Inter Ocean is lecturing the West upon the impolicy of frequent changes in representation at Washington. It says:

"No matter what his rank, position or talent, as recognized at home, he is able during his first term to exercise but a very moderate influence. It is of little avail to carry a great name from his State, and seek upon its strength of it, to become a leader in the body. It soon leaves that the Genius of an Alphabet and age lacks a very much of being the dictator of the House. He must begin at the footfall the ladder and come up slowly, and will be listened to by no other outside. More than one worthy, and in his unambitious gentleman has learned the truth of these statements during the present session, and in a way in which he had much rather not have been instructed. Every new member realize. That a species of tyranny exists in the House which circumscribes his efforts and brings him under. The first step which brings him anything like a cordial recognition is a re-election. A third election places him in a fair position, and a further continuance of popular confidence renders him influential and gives his voice its weight in the councils of the nation. How well then, the course of the asst in returning its old and faithful servants."

EXCITEMENT IN THE FRENCH ASSEMBLY

The hall of the French National Assembly was crowded on Friday, in anticipation of an exciting session. Ex President Thiers occupied his seat, as delegate. The Duke de Broglie introduced his project of a law for creating a Second Chamber, and read a ministerial report on the subject. The services of President MacMahon to his country are warmly praised, and the importance of strengthening his hand pointed out. Appealing to the members of the Assembly, the Ministers say:—"You are unwilling to constitute a definitive Republic. We do not ask you to bind your consciences. [Murmurs from the benches of the left.] We advise you to continue the truce in partisanship for some years, but you must give the Presidential means for protection and reassurance of society and commerce."

The report goes on to describe the new Chamber, which is to be called "The Grand Council," and the members of which are to receive no salary. When the Duke de Broglie completed the reading of the report there were renewed protests from the Left. Amid a scene of wild excitement the bill was then read and [illegible] to the Committee of Thirty. No further business could be done on account of the confusion in the Chamber, and the Assembly was adjourned.

Later despatches state that the Extreme Right in the Assembly have rejected all propositions of the Cabinet for a compromise on the question of an immediate debate on the electoral law. The position of the Ministry is considered critical. A cabinet council took place last night. All the Ministers declared in favor of resigning unless the Assembly should support the Government. The Cabinet is to meet again this morning.

HASTY CONSUMPTION CURED BY RELIGIO-PHOSPHORINE.—CARBONEAR, NEWFOUNDLAND, Jan. 1, 1874.—MR. DAVIS: I FELLOWS, DEAR SIR:—I came to this country in May, 1869 I found a country-man of mine laboring under some affection of the lungs. I recommended [your] Syrup, treat at the druggists in Harbor Grace, but they thought I was speculating the name at their expense. However, on April, 1870, Mr Edgar Joyce rapidly wasted away with every symptom of quick consumption, so that he was unable to walk across the room, had no appetite, pains in the left side, nervous system unstrung, dry, hacking cough. Fortunately, I learned that your Syrup could be obtained at Mr Dearin's in St. John's and immediately procured some, followed one by W. H. Thompson, who ordered a supply from you at once I then was [illegible] at night before I took the prescribed dose, and in the morning he described [illegible] very results written on the wrapper His appetite soon began to return, and a voracious one it was, too, the dry, hacking cough changed into loose and violent attacks, finally disappearing altogether, pains left a side, his head rested same.
